DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments filed Dec. 27, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Response to Arguments

2. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992).

In this case, regarding to claims 1, and 12, Nickum discloses a portable cellular phone having a first part comprising interface means for performing subscriber interface functions (see fig.1, element 16 and its description) and a second part comprising transceiver means for transmitting and receiving over a telecommunications cellular telephone network (see fig.1, elements 14, and its description), said first part and second part being releasable connected to each other (see fig.1, element 14, 16 col.3, lines 23-25 and its description), except for first part and second part being in bi-directional communication with each other when separated. However, Mardirossian discloses a portable cellular phone (3) and a pager (29) being in bi-directional communication with each other when separated (see fig.2, elements 3 and 29), and said first part further comprising means for wireless communications with a further telecommunication network or with a telecommunication station (see fig.1, 29 (first part), and 5, 7 (telecommunication network or with a telecommunication station) and its description). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Mardirossian's pager in Nickum's portable communication apparatus in order to improve the use of telecommunication system. With reason above the previous rejection is sustained (see previous action sent on Sept. 27, 2004).

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
